Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:
D1: FR-A-2 609 499 (LAJARRIGE PIERRE) 15 July 1988 (1988-07-15)
2. The document D1 is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of claim 1, and shows (the references in parentheses applying to this document):
Clutch, comprising a housing, an input shaft (11) and an output shaft (18) rotatably supported with respect to the housing, a drive gear set (12,13,14) and a control gear set (15,16,17) each comprising a first gear, a number of pinion gears, a carrier onto which the pinion gears are mounted, and a second gear, each pinion gear (16,16) meshing with the corresponding first gear (12,15) and second gear (14,19) of the gear set, as well as control means (1) for influencing the rotation of a first gear (19) of the control gear set, wherein the first gear (12) of the drive gear set is connected to the input shaft (11) and the second gear (19) of said control gear set being connected to the control means (1).

From this, the subject-matter of claim 1 differs in that: the carrier of said drive gear set is connected to the output shaft and the second gear of said drive gear set is connected to the carrier of the control gear set, the first gear of the control gear set being connected to the output shaft.

The subject-matter of claim 1 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).

The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as how to become an improved more efficient design.

The solution to this problem proposed in claim 1 of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) for the following reasons: although several planetary lay-outs are known from the prior art, none of them discloses or suggests the claimed lay-out.
